

I “bet your bottom dollar” that you can’t stitch this without singing the show tune “Tomorrow” from the musical Annie! It’s hard to believe it was so long ago, but it was published in 1977 (music by Charles Strouse and lyrics by Martin Charnin). Go to YouTube and search for “Annie 1982 – Tomorrow” to hear this sweet song.

Look at the knee caps on those flamingoes! Heehee! And those are fish you see jumping out of the water!

Rummage in your stash for fabric and thread scraps and use your imagination to stitch this little reminder that better days lay ahead!

Stitcher's Hideaway
Feel free to share this complimentary chart!
StitchersHideaway.com